

Dear Sir or Madam: It's time to jump into reality and acknowledge that satellite radio is exceptionally well done, high quality, and offers remarkable variety, entertainment and information that commercial radio simply cannot match. I've had XM radio in my car and home for over 3 months, and have not listened to commercial radio since installing it, and will not ever again. Commercial radio is annoying and intrusive. Advertisements are so poorly done, loud and intolerable. I pay for the service provided by XM Satellite radio - I choose to enjoy it. I choose to avoid all commercial radio services. The NBA has absolutely no right to interfere with my freedom of choice when it comes to radio. Do the right thing - step up to the plate, acknowledge your power and use it wisely. Remember, with power comes responsibility. You serve the people of the USA. To whom much is given much is expected. I expect you to take my message to heart, and act on it responsibly. Thank you for taking time to read this missive. Kind Regards, Donald A. Rowe
